STAY PROPERLY HYDRATED!

One common mistake walkers make is opting for sugary sports drinks during their workout. The calories from these beverages negate most of the calories you're burning, and in most instances, they aren't needed to sustain your activity. Carry a water bottle while walking and sip between strides. Add a slice of fresh lemon or lime for a refreshing taste.

Walk in Rhythm!

Music has been shown to inspire exercisers to go longer and harder. Just about any music that inspires you can add energy to your steps and keep you motivated. Start with songs that have a slower beat to warm up, then choose higher-energy ones for the middle of your walk, and finish with a slower, relaxing tune. You can even alternate fast and slow songs for a musical interval walk. Just remember to keep the volume low and use only one earbud if you're walking outside.

MAY 7

Need some motivation to meet your walking goals this week?

- Try a short walk following meals, which can help control your blood sugar, prevent cravings for more food and give your metabolism a boost.
- When completing daily errands, walk between destinations instead of driving when it's a mile or less.
- Take a short walk when you feel frustrated or stressed. It can help your mood while you burn a few more calories.
- Always take the stairs instead of the elevator.

MAY 14

Walking on a hiking trail with hills is one way to include intervals in your walking routine without making it feel like torture. Walking uphill also burns more calories and helps you build muscle in the lower body, which can help speed up your metabolism, too.

If you don't have a walking trail with hills, try a staircase workout. Change your technique slightly. Lean forward as you climb, take shorter steps, and bend your knees more than you would normally.

MAY 21

While it might look silly, exaggerating your arm swing while you walk has additional benefits. It'll help to speed up your pace, work your upper body and burn up to 10% more calories when compared to a normal arm swing. To perfect your arm-swing technique, use these tips:

- Bend your arms to 90 degrees and maintain this form.
- The arm should extend behind the body as far as you can comfortably and naturally.
- On the upswing, the hand should rise to the level of the chest.

MAY 28

Emphasizing correct posture can help improve your workout and calorie burn and prevent fatigue and common walking-related injuries. Focus on keeping your back relaxed, elongating your spine, and keeping your shoulders neutral. Make sure to focus your gaze on the horizon, which helps keep your neck and head aligned.

Pay attention to how your foot strikes the ground. Your heel should strike the ground first to help absorb the impact and minimize stress on the joints. From there, your foot should roll smoothly forward and push off of your toes using the toe flexors.

Review your footwear before TPC 5K Walk Day!

Check out your walking shoes at least 2 weeks before the event day. Make sure your shoes fit snug yet comfortable. Look at the tread on the bottom of the shoe for wear. If you do need a new pair of walking shoes, strive to purchase them at least 2 weeks before the event so that you can get use to the feel.
